

Methodology, Dive into

Syllabus

Day 1

After a course introduction and an orientation of the virtual workspace used throughout the week, day one instruction dives right into material on reconnaissance and browser exploits.

Students will learn about various types of reconnaissance and the use of honey networks. Next, students will examine the structure of a cyberattack, then create and launch their own web browser exploit.

